Staff Members of Dermatology & Aesthetic Practices

CONFERENCE ONLINE GUIDE with AGENDA & SPEAKERS

2026 DMA Annual Conference
& DermAesthetic Summit

April 17-18, 2026

The Hotel at Avalon
Alpharetta GA

History of DMA

In 2003, a group of practice managers aiming to establish successful dermatology practices founded the Dermatology Managers Association of Georgia (DMA/GA). The primary goal of DMA is to foster the growth of dermatology practice managers through ongoing education, innovative business practices, and professional networking opportunities.

In 2014, the target audience was broadened to include aesthetic practices, and soon after, programs were introduced for non-managerial office staff. Each year, DMA hosts an annual conference that provides professional development opportunities for all personnel within Dermatology and Aesthetic practices nationwide.

During the one-and-a-half-day conference, three simultaneous educational pathways are available:

- Managers, Administrators, Providers, and Key Personnel
- Laser Practitioners, Aestheticians, and Cosmetic Care Coordinators
- Front and Back Office, Insurance and Billing, and Non-managerial Staff

Most programs offer continuing education units (CEUs) through AAPC, with additional certificates available for laser practitioners and aestheticians.

As DMA has expanded, the annual meetings have attracted numerous attendees from outside the state of Georgia, leading us to rebrand as the Dermatology Managers Association (DMA). We operate as a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization, and our meetings are designed around the feedback and needs of our members and attendees, supported by our generous sponsors and exhibitors.

General Information

3 Educational Tracks

- Managers Track structured for administrators, managers, providers, and key staff members.
- Aesthetic Track structured for aestheticians, laser practitioners, cosmetic support staff, and providers.
- Office Staff Track structured for all front and back office, insurance and billing, and non-managerial staff members.

Continuing Education Units & Laser Certificate

Your Keynote Speaker

All In! Betting on Yourself During Challenging Times

Ken Okel

Leadership & Performance Strategist

Imagine walking into work with the same confidence you'd have holding a winning hand in cards. This keynote will give you a mindset makeover for the moments that matter most.

In this energizing and motivational session, you will learn how to shift your perspective, rise to the moment, and lead with clarity in uncertain times. Through real-world insights and engaging storytelling, you'll discover how to stay focused, flexible, and confident, no matter what challenges come your way. Get insider strategies for staying composed under pressure and turning disruption into opportunity. You'll walk away with actionable takeaways to improve communication, inspire your team, and strengthen performance.

And don't be late, as this keynote includes a few surprises you won't want to miss. Get ready to go all in on yourself, your leadership, and your ability to thrive in today's every-changing healthcare landscape.

(CEUs pending)

Ken Okel

Ken Okel knows what it's like to face big challenges at work. Drawing from his high-pressure experiences in broadcast news, hurricane relief, and professional ballet, he shares priceless insider strategies to help you perform at your best.

Ken understands how the world can dare you to get out of your comfort zone. He knows what it's like, when there's no turning back and you have to take on a new challenge. Today, as a motivational keynote speaker, in person and virtual audiences enjoy his creative solutions to their problems.

Ken is the author of the book, Stuck on Yellow, hosts The 2 Minute Takeaway Podcast, and has marketed everything from global brands to a three legged kitten.

Ken is highly recommended with testimonials like, "Inspirational, thought-provoking, and deeply motivating, Ken delivered an outstanding presentation that challenged us to step outside our comfort zones and embrace the unknown with courage and determination. Through powerful storytelling and actionable insights, he reminded us that true growth happens when we accept the dare—whether in business, leadership, or personal life. Our membership left feeling empowered, ready to take bold risks, and confident in their ability to turn challenges into opportunities."

Evolution of Privacy & Security Risk in Healthcare

Raymond Ribble
President, Sphere, Inc

Under HIPAA guidelines, every comprehensive healthcare strategy must include Patient Privacy Protection and User Activity Monitoring.

Wherein the ongoing threat to practices, groups and clinics remains, the type of attacks occurring becomes much more sophisticated. Medical offices used to simply concern themselves with the rogue employee (still an issue), we now have increased threat vectors from Ransomware, Email Phishing attacks, Deepfake emails, and other electronic forms of security risks that can damage the financial health and reputation of a clinic.

Learn how to protect patient data and mitigate the risk of a major data breach, as well as to ease the burden of adhering to State and Federal privacy regulations.

(CEUs pending)

Raymond Ribble

Raymond is the Founder, President, and CEO of SPHER, Inc. He earned his B.S. degree in Aviation Technology and Management from Western Michigan University and a certificate in Asian cultural studies from UCLA.

With over 30 years of experience in the technology field, Raymond has succeeded in multiple industries including aerospace engineering, business consultation, and now healthcare. His expertise extends across the Asia-Pacific, having founded businesses in Japan, China, and Hong Kong prior to his business ventures in the U.S. Raymond has held senior roles in a number of technology start-ups, resulting in successful exits.

Raymond regularly shares his insight on EMR and EHR security at nationwide seminars and webinars.

Training to Win: Patient Access Management Certification

Tommie Major, BC, C-PAM-3
Dermsquared

Prior Authorizations have become a nightmare for many practices. This session will

- Discuss the importance of training for Prior Authorizations
- Describe training protocol and the value of certified prior authorization management
- Discuss how to implement certified prior authorization management into your practice training protocol

(CEUs pending)

Tommie Major, BC, C-PAM3

Tommie Major is a Biologic Coordinator with more than 23 years of experience at Georgia Skin & Cancer Clinic. She specializes in coordinating advanced biologic therapies, improving patient access, and supporting providers in delivering high-quality dermatologic care.

In addition to her clinical expertise, Tommie serves as a speaker for several pharmaceutical companies and contributes her insights on multiple dermatology advisory boards. She is also a founding member of the Patient Access Management Summit (PAMS) Steering Committee for Dermsquared, where she helps shape strategic initiatives that advance practice management and patient outcomes in dermatology.

Tommie played a key role in the development, launch, and ongoing management of the Certification for Patient Access Management (C-PAM) program in partnership with Dermsquared. She has mentored numerous aspiring biologic coordinators and continues to speak and serve on faculty for national meetings and professional events.

Outside of her professional commitments, Tommie enjoys spending time with her grandchildren and traveling with her husband.

A Flawless First Impression: Onboarding for Lasting Results

Christina Fiorenza, SPHR
HR Engagement Manager
Thread HCM

Bringing new employees into your practice the right way makes all the difference. This session will walk you through practical onboarding strategies that not only get staff up to speed quickly, but also improves retention, morale, and patient care. Learn how to structure onboarding for success, build engagement and retention, and sustain the momentum for long-term success.

- Structuring onboarding for success: Setting clear expectations and structure that employees need from day one.
- Building engagement and retention: Creating a welcoming, supportive experience that encourages loyalty and reduces turnover.
- Sustaining momentum: Keeping new hires engaged beyond the first week through check-ins, feedback, and continued development.

(CEUs pending)

Christina Fiorenza, SPHR

Christina Fiorenza is a seasoned HR professional with over two decades of experience helping organizations strengthen their people practices and cultures. A proud alumna of LSU, she has held roles ranging from HR Generalist to HR Director and currently serves as HR Engagement Manager at Thread HCM.

With deep expertise in compliance, employee relations, training and development, and HR strategy, Christina is recognized for her ability to guide teams with both knowledge and heart. She is valued by colleagues and clients alike for her approachable leadership style, her commitment to growth, and her belief that work should be both meaningful and enjoyable.

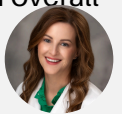

Strategie Stacking: Leveraging Technology and Expertise to Optimize Your Practice

Joseph Atzenbeck,
LT, USN (Ret.) MHA, CEO

In today's evolving healthcare landscape, dermatology practices face mounting demands—from regulatory complexity to operational inefficiencies and workforce challenges. Solution Stacking is a strategic approach that combines complementary technologies and external expertise to drive measurable improvements in performance, compliance, and profitability. During this panel discussion, industry leaders will share practical examples of how AI-driven tools can enhance scheduling, documentation, and patient engagement, while third-party consultants can elevate areas like MIPS reporting and compliance without adding internal overhead. Attendees will leave with actionable strategies for building their own customized solution stack to improve efficiency, outcomes, and overall ROI.

Panel participants joining Joe: Tara Gillespie, APRN-C, CEO Heartland Dermatology, Kansas

Trent Renta, COO Olansky Dermatology & Aesthetics, Atlanta

Joseph Atzenbeck, LT, USN (Ret.), MHA, CEO

Joe is a founding member of The Clinic for Dermatology & Wellness and serves as the Chief Executive Officer and Clinic Administrator for a provider and employee team encompassing medical, surgical and aesthetic dermatology, as well as Mohs micrographic surgery.

He is an Honors Graduate from the prestigious United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Control Systems Engineering. He also holds a Master of Health Administration from Cornell University in Ithaca, New York.

Joe deployed on seven submarine missions vital to national security. With extensive experience and success at sea, he was selected for the position of Deputy Director of the National Security Agency (NSA) Hawaii field site Security Operations Center's 24/7 intelligence watch floor.

Joe is renowned for his extreme attention to detail and step-by-step planning processes to ensure seamless operations and minimal friction points. In his role at the NSA, which conducts operations on behalf of military and other intelligence agency customers, he also gained valuable insight into multi-agency, multi-faceted, multi-national, multiple product line, military, civilian, and contractor operations conducted in a highly classified environment.

Joe was medically retired from active duty in November of 2014 and although a disabled veteran, he remains a capable and determined leader. While no longer eligible for military service, he desires to be a productive member of society and a top-notch employer.

Joe's experience with customer service and leadership expectation management, employee concerns (military, civilian and contractor), staffing and scheduling of personnel, and dual-geographically separate campus operations on a 24/7 basis, make him an invaluable member to any team.

Laser Safety Certificate Program

Program details

John Hoopman, CMLSO

John Hoopman, CMLSO

John began his clinical experience at The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas in 1998. He served as the administrator of the UT program (now some 225-laser strong) including the disciplines of medical/surgical specialties including Cardio-Thoracic, Dermatology, Plastic Surgery, Ophthalmology, Obstetrics/Gynecology, Oral Surgery, Orthopedics, Otorhinolaryngology, Urology, and Neurologic Surgery until May 2019 when he retired after 21 years of service. With little time off, John came back to UT Southwestern in the Department of Plastic Surgery to further his research in the process of light tissue interactions and continue his passion of faculty and resident education.

John is nationally recognized as a leader in patient advocacy and is an active and guiding member of organizations like the ANSI Z136.3 Review Board (the guiding force in patient safety and control nationally), the American Society for Laser Medicine and Surgery (ASLMS), American Society for Aesthetic Plastic Surgeons (ASAPS) and the Laser Institute of America (LIA). With his academic and developmental involvement in light medicine John has a unique ability to gauge and review most of the new and emerging light and noninvasive technologies being brought to bear in today's ever changing surgical/clinical world. He has had the honor and pleasure to be involved with revolutionary new laser and light applications that significantly affected both the quality and duration of patient's lives.

John has also been privileged in co-authoring 45+ translational cornerstone research publications. In constant demand by the medical laser industry, John has a unique ability to bring clear and understandable terms to the most complicated of light procedures and methods.

Don't Sweat the Small Stuff: Harnessing the Power of Choice in Your Career

Rick Crici, Ed.D, MHA, CMPE
Crici Coaching & Consulting Services

In this inspiring session, Rick introduces his signature philosophy: Life is all about choices. With warmth and practical insight, he will show dermatology practice staff how to take ownership of their work, avoid overreactions, and reframe challenges with a calm, empowered mindset. Participants will also learn to recognize the difference between "just a job" and a fulfilling career path, and discover how the mantra Don't Sweat the Small Stuff can create less stress and more satisfaction - both in the office and beyond.

Practical takeaways you can apply immediately to improve teamwork, patient experiences, and your own sense of balance and fulfillment.

- Recognize the Power of Choice in Daily Interactions: Participants will understand how both conscious and unconscious choices shape their experience at work, and how adopting a "choice-first" mindset can reduce stress and create more positive patient and colleague interactions.
- Take Ownership of Responsibilities: Staff will learn strategies to shift from reactive responses to proactive ownership, understanding how personal accountability contributes to smoother practice operations and a more supportive team culture.
- Develop Skills to Avoid Overreaction: Participants will practice techniques to pause, reframe, and respond calmly in stressful situations, reducing conflict, improving communication, and fostering a calmer environment for patients and coworkers alike.
- Distinguish Between a Job and a Career: Staff will explore how reframing their role as a part of a bigger career path - rather than "just a job" - can increase motivation, pride, and fulfillment in their daily work.
- Apply "Don't Sweat the Small Stuff" as a Practical Tool: By identifying what truly matters versus what can be let go, participants will leave with actionable strategies to focus on high-impact tasks and let minor frustrations roll off their shoulders.
